Taxpayer quit his W-2 job in May of 2010 and began trading forex full time in June. He traded full-time from June through December of 2010.

Taxpayer had $62,000 in forex losses in 2010 which are reported on Form 4797, Part II as ordinary loss per IRC Section 988. Since the taxpayer is considered a full time trader during the period of the forex loss, these losses can be used to generate a net operating loss in the current year.

Also, since the taxpayer had forex losses in excess of $50,000 for 2010, a Federal Form 8886 has been filed to disclose this loss.

Note to Schedule C and Form 4797, Part II in connection with taxpayer's trading business activity: "trader in currencies"

TAXPAYER QUALIFIES AS A "TRADER IN CURRENCIES"

Taxpayer qualifies as a "trader in currencies" from June through December of 2010. Taxpayer's trading business expenses are reported as business expenses on Schedule C and the currency trading gains and losses are reported on Form 4797, Part II.

Taxpayer received W-2 income from a sales position held from January through the end of May 2010. Taxpayer left his W-2 employment to trade full-time from June through December of 2010.

Taxpayer clearly meets the requirements for a trading business set forth below.

Trader in Currencies is a business the same as Trader in Securities.

Taxpayer operated a trading business, in accordance with the definition below, from June through December of 2010. Considerable time spent every trading day, consistent and frequent number of trades, and trading proceeds all support taxpayer's rising to the level of conducting this activity as a business.

We excerpt IRS Publication 550, Chapter 4 - Special Rules for Traders Securities. (See our added notes in parenthesis).

Special rules apply if you are a trader in securities in the business of buying and selling securities for your own account. To be engaged in business as a trader in securities, you must meet all the following conditions. (Taxpayer met all the following conditions for tax year 2010).

..You must seek to profit from daily market movements in the prices of securities and not from dividends, interest, or capital appreciation.

..Your activity must be substantial.

..You must carry on the activity with continuity and regularity.

The following facts and circumstances should be considered in determining if your activity is a securities trading business.

..Typical holding periods for securities bought and sold. (Taxpayer had very short holding periods).

..The frequency and dollar amount of your trades during the year. (Taxpayer traded frequently with lower dollar amounts - high turnover).

..The extent to which you pursue the activity to produce income for a livelihood. (Taxpayer's intention is to earn a living from this trading business activity).

..The amount of time you devote to the activity. (Taxpayer spends a good part of every day on this activity).

Note.

You may be a trader in some securities and have other securities you hold for investment. The special rules discussed here do not apply to the securities held for investment. You must keep detailed records to distinguish the securities. The securities held for investment must be identified as such in your records on the day you got them (for example, by holding them in a separate brokerage account). (If taxpayer has investment securities they are clearly "segregated" from his trading securities in accordance with current IRS regulations).

How To Report.

Interbank or forex currency transactions are IRC section 988 contracts reported on Form 1040 as other income or loss. As a trader rather than a manufacturer, Taxpayer is entitled to elect out of IRC 988 for IRC 1256 treatment. Taxpayer did not make the election out of IRC Section 988, therefore his respective forex loss for 2010 is reported on Form 4797, Part II.

Expenses.

Interest expense and other investment expenses that an investor would deduct on Schedule A (Form 1040) are deducted by a trader on Schedule C (Form 1040), Profit or Loss From Business, if the expenses are from the trading business. Commissions and other costs of acquiring or disposing of securities are not deductible but must be used to figure gain or loss. The limit on investment interest expense, which applies to investors, does not apply to interest paid or incurred in a trading business. (Taxpayer duly reported his trading business expenses on Schedule C: trader in currencies.)

Self-employment tax.

Gains and losses from selling securities as part of a trading business are not subject to self-employment tax.

Taxpayer qualifies as a "trader in currencies" from June through December of 2010. Taxpayer's trading business expenses are reported on Schedule C and his currency trading gains and losses are reported on Form 4797, Part II.

Taxpayer is not subject to self-employment taxes on this trading activity. Taxpayer's securities investment positions (if any) are subject to normal rules for investing activities (Schedule D capital gain or loss, wash sales, and Schedule A for investment expenses).
