EX8F-CA:

During 2010, Joe had total trading proceeds over $20 million and total roundtrip trades of over 1,000 per review of the TradeLog reports. Trading was Joe's only occupation in 2010 and his source of livelihood. Joe qualifies as a "trader in commodities" (i.e., he has trader tax status), so he reports all his trading business expenses on Schedule C (Business Profit and Loss).

Joe was wise - he was profitable trading commodities for the year as of April 15, 2010, and he decided to not elect mark-to-market accounting for 2010. If he had decided to, the election would have been due by April 15, 2010. Joe understood that electing MTM would convert his commodities "capital gains and losses" to "ordinary gains and losses," and he did not want to forgo the 60-percent long-term capital gains rate benefit on commodities gains. Without MTM, Joe saved a considerable amount of federal taxes vs. Example 7.

Note to Schedules C and Form 6781 in connection with taxpayer's business activity:
"trader in commodities"

TAXPAYER QUALIFIES AS A "TRADER IN COMMODITIES"

SUMMARY

Taxpayer qualifies as a "trader in commodities" for 2010. Taxpayer's trading business expenses are reported on Schedule C and his commodities trading gains and losses are reported on Form 6781.

=====

Trader in Commodities is a business the same as Trader in Securities.

-----

Taxpayer operated a trading business, in accordance with the definition below, during all of 2010. Considerable time spent every trading day, consistent and frequent number of trades, and trading proceeds all support taxpayer's rising to the level of conducting this activity as a business.

We excerpt IRS Publication 550, Chapter 4 - Special Rules for Traders Securities. (See our added notes in parenthesis).

Special rules apply if you are a trader in securities in the business of buying and selling securities for your own account. To be engaged in business as a trader in securities, you must meet all the following conditions. (Taxpayer met all the following conditions for tax year 2010).

..You must seek to profit from daily market movements in the prices of securities and not from dividends, interest, or capital appreciation.

..Your activity must be substantial.

..You must carry on the activity with continuity and regularity.

The following facts and circumstances should be considered in determining if your activity is a securities trading business.

..Typical holding periods for securities bought and sold. (Taxpayer had very short holding periods).

..The frequency and dollar amount of your trades during the year. (Taxpayer traded frequently with lower dollar amounts - high turnover).

..The extent to which you pursue the activity to produce income for a livelihood. (Taxpayer's intention is to earn a living from this trading business activity).

..The amount of time you devote to the activity. (Taxpayer spends a good part of every day on this activity).

Note.

You may be a trader in some securities and have other securities you hold for investment. The special rules discussed here do not apply to the securities held for investment. You must keep detailed records to distinguish the securities. The securities held for investment must be identified as such in your records on the day you got them (for example, by holding them in a separate brokerage account). (If taxpayer has investment securities they are clearly "segregated" from his trading securities in accordance with current IRS regulations).

How To Report.

Transactions from trading activities result in capital gains and losses and must be reported on Schedule D (Form 1040). Losses from these transactions are subject to the limit on capital losses explained earlier in this chapter.

Expenses.

Interest expense and other investment expenses that an investor would deduct on Schedule A (Form 1040) are deducted by a trader on Schedule C (Form 1040), Profit or Loss From Business, if the expenses are from the trading business. Commissions and other costs of acquiring or disposing of securities are not deductible but must be used to figure gain or loss. The limit on investment interest expense, which applies to investors, does not apply to interest paid or incurred in a trading business. (Taxpayer duly reported his trading business expenses on Schedule C: trader in commodities)

Taxpayer's trading gains are exempt from self-employment taxation.

Taxpayer is exempt from self-employment taxation because taxpayer is a trader in commodities and not a "commodity dealer", as defined in IRC Section 1402 Definitions - Net earnings from self-employment.

SPECIAL NOTES

If Taxpayer has net trading gains, sufficient trading gains are transferred from Form 6781 to Schedule C to cover Taxpayer's related trading business expenses. This is done since Schedule C business expenses relate to taxpayer's trading gains. There is no change to the tax liability as a result of this transfer.

Future Tax Savings

- ☐ If the medical insurance premiums currently being paid by the taxpayer are for a high deductible health plan, consideration should be given to opening a Health Savings Account (HSA) under IRC Section 223. Qualified HSA contributions provide for an above-the-line deduction. In 2011, the policy must have an annual deductible of at least $1,200 ($2,400 for family coverage) and maximum out-of-pocket expenses not exceeding $5,950 ($11,900 for family coverage). If the taxpayer participates for the entire year, contributions up to the amount of the annual deductible, but not exceeding $3,050 ($6,150 for family coverage) could be deducted on the tax return. In 2011, catch-up contributions of $1,000 can be made by taxpayers between age 55 and 65. Distributions and earnings from HSA's are not taxed provided they are used to pay qualified medical expenses.

Tax Tips

- ☐ Taxable income excluding capital gains and qualified dividends is $83,486, placing the taxpayer in a 28% marginal tax bracket on ordinary income. Based on 2010 tax rates, ordinary income would have to increase by over $88,364 in order for any ordinary income to begin being taxed in the 33% bracket. This may be used as a guide in determining the advantages or disadvantages of receiving discretionary ordinary income in 2011.
- ☐ A careful approach to prepaying discretionary itemized deductions before the end of the year, or postponing discretionary itemized deductions until after the year end, could prove to be beneficial to this taxpayer, since itemized deductions are very close in value to the standard deduction.
- ☐ The costs associated with maintaining a home office can be deducted only if strict IRS guidelines are met. Ensure that the home office is used exclusively for business, that the taxpayer uses the office to conduct administrative or management activities of a trade or business, and that there is no other fixed location of the trade or business where the taxpayer conducts substantial administrative or management activities for the business. Refer to IRS Publication 587 for additional rules related to the home office deduction.
- ☐ For home sales operations, ensure that storage space is included in the calculation of business square footage. Additional storage space can be underutilized spaces such as attics and basements. The storage space must be used on a regular basis and be an identifiable separate space suitable for storage.
- ☐ The taxpayer is subject to AMT. Consider a thorough review of next year's anticipated income and deductions items, and AMT preference and adjustment items, to see if any can be postponed or eliminated.

Compliance Tips

- ☐ Schedule C for Joe Trader no MTM Comm Gain Ex8 (1) : Ensure that all required information returns such as Form 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G have been filed. Penalties for not filing required information returns can be fairly high.

- ☐ Schedule C for Joe Trader no MTM Comm Gain Ex8 (1) : Travel, meals, and entertainment expenses draw close attention from the IRS under examination. Entertainment expenses must be ordinary and necessary, and common practice for the type of industry. In addition to the general record keeping requirements, the following information may be required: dates and duration of business discussions that took place, nature of the business conducted, the business benefit derived or expected to be derived, identification of the person(s) entertained, and whether the site of the meeting was vacation oriented. Ensure that adequate records exist to support the travel, meals, and entertainment expense.
